Song – Our Eternal Host (Lyrics)

Drawn together, we raise one voice; unifying deepest breath, we declare and rejoice that your love brings the church to life, calling forth her joy and sacrifice: gifts and time shared with those who have need, given as freely as we have received, so that all may taste and all might see, and be fed by your abundant feast.

Reaching out with a gentle hand, kindred spirits on the way as we travel the path past our comfort, beyond our sight, yet made holy by the light of Christ. Love for neighbor as we love ourselves – keep this commandment and all will be well, until all find hope as they come to know: Jesus Christ is our eternal Host.

Doors wide open and table set, we extend the hand of grace as new friends are met, far-off strangers becoming kin, outward signs of love from deep within. One large family, but still room for more, welcoming all so God's family might grow, and the kingdom come here on earth today, as we celebrate in Jesus' name.

Text: Phil Campbell-Enns (Canada), 2016. philcampbellenns.com Music: Phil Campbell-Enns (Canada), 2016; arr. Bill Derksen (Canada), 2016. Creative Commons: Attribution Non-Commercial 4.0 International (CC BY-4.0)

