

Video – A Creative God: The Visual Arts in Worship

This video explores how seven Anabaptist/Mennonite congregations with worshipers from varying cultural backgrounds use visual art and other visual elements in their worship and their congregational life. It is suitable for use as a teaching resource.

Visual art is one of the church’s expressive gifts. Its presence in places of worship can evoke wonder, imagination, dreams, lament, hope, and a sense of beauty. The ministry of artists and artful amateurs blesses the church, especially when their work draws on the cultural heritages present among worshipers.

The video is accompanied by a discussion guide and slide shows. These are intended to help artists and leaders stimulate artful discussions about enriching the worship and spiritual life of their communities.

The video and discussion projects were funded by the Calvin Institute of Christian Worship (Grand Rapids, Michigan) through the 2021–22 Teacher-Scholar Vital Worship Grant program and the Marpeck Deans Fund for collaborative projects between faculty of Mennonite colleges and universities in the United States and Canada 2021–22.
